PARTY LINES TO BE ELIMINATED

During Consideration of the Payne Tariff Bill.

REPORT OF THE MINORITY

Will Severely Criticise the Wool Schedule in the New Bill, as the Democrats Claim It Has Not Been Cut Enough to Place It on a Revenue Basis—Little Prospect of Lengthy Debate on the Bill.

Washington, March 19.—That party lines will be eliminated during the consideration in the house of the Payne tariff bill was indicated by the action of Representative Broussard of Louisiana in withdrawing from the meeting of the minority members of the committee because he differs with their views on the tariff.

With few exceptions each member of the house will fight for the interests of his home district. There is little prospect of any lengthy general debate on the bill and the consideration of the measure under the five-minute rule for amendment will be proceeded with as soon as possible, probably by the end of the present week.

Unless a "gag" rule for the prevention of unlimited amendments under the five-minute rule is brought in, the minority members of the ways and means committee will not report a separate bill. Their report will be drafted by Minority Leader Clark and will severely criticise the wool schedule in the new bill. It is contended by the Democrats that it has not been cut sufficiently to place it on a revenue basis. There probably will be numerous amendments offered and heated discussions affecting them are anticipated.

Endorsed by Democrats.

The inheritance tax, Philippine free trade, international revenue and maximum and minimum features of the new bill are endorsed by the minority leaders and there has been much favorable comment upon the measure by Democratic congressmen. Champ Clark declared that he had not had sufficient time to look into its provisions to enable him to comment upon them. It is understood that the minority leaders favor the removal of the restrictions on the quantity of sugar and tobacco that can be admitted from the Philippines free of duty. On the other hand several Southern Democrats are endeavoring to have the free trade proposition amended so as to exclude rice, their contention being that rice could be sent from the Philippines to the United States markets and sold for 2 cents a pound if admitted free from the islands. This, they say, would ruin the rice industry in this country.

A number of Democrats will join with some Republicans in favoring the continuation of the duty assessed by the Dingley bill upon lumber. The fight for free lumber will be headed by Champ Clark, it is understood. He has frequently expressed himself in bitter terms regarding the lumber situation in this country. During the tariff hearings he arraigned the lumber magnates and delved deep into the intricacies of stumpage and railroad land grants. It is not thought there will be any serious opposition to the tariff placed on tea.

Great Britain and France probably will be the first countries to secure the benefit of the minimum rates of duty named in the Payne bill. As soon as the measure is enacted Great Britain will secure the minimum rates.

The ways and means committee in its report estimates that the entire revenues to the government for the fiscal year 1910, providing the Payne bill is in operation, will be $862,065,885. As the total amount for which revenue will be required for 1910 is estimated at $872,231,701, it is claimed that the deficit for 1910 will be about $10,000,000.

HOUSE PASSES MEASURE

Provides for the Taking of the Thirtieth Census.

Washington, March 19.—The first piece of legislation to be acted on by the house during the special session was the bill providing for the taking of the thirtieth census, which was passed. In its present form the measure gives to the civil service commission jurisdiction over appointments and provides for the printing of the reports by the government printing office. As enacted at the last session the bill stripped the civil service commission of such authority and there was a provision allowing some of the printing to be done by private firms, because of which President Roosevelt vetoed it. A further amendment was made whereby appointments are to be apportioned pro rata among the states.

The tariff bill was officially reported to the house from the committee on ways and means and is now ready for consideration.

TWO KINDS OF MEMORY

Exhibited Before Wisconsin Investigating Committee.

Madison, Wis., March 19.—Two kinds of memory were exhibited at the session of the primary senatorial investigation committee. That of Charles S. French of Lake Geneva was mostly a blank as to the persons to whom he paid a total of $800 in behalf of Mr. Stephenson in Walworth and Kenosha counties. In striking contrast was that of J. Earle Morgan of Oshkosh, son-in-law of Senator Stephenson, who spent $2,550 of his own money in behalf of his father-in-law in Winnebago county. Without the aid of a memorandum he told how nearly the full amount was disbursed. He testified he did not expect to be reimbursed, but that Mr. Stephenson insisted, declaring "every cent has got to go into my expense account."

Dr. F. H. Gehbe of Manitowoc county told of the disbursing of $400 in organization work for Stephenson.

William R. Knell, who appeared some time ago, was recalled and explained how he spent $12,000 in getting out the votes in Milwaukee county for Stephenson. He believed the primary law necessitated the spending of large sums of money, because each candidate had to organize the whole state. The expense might be done away with, he said, by changing the law so as to require each candidate to write out his platform and mail a printed copy to every voter and confine the expense to this.

Plot to Kill the Ameer.

London, March 19.—A Times special from Peshawar, British India, says that the ameer of Afghanistan has ordered numerous arrests at Kabul and Jelalabad, on the discovery of a plot to murder himself, the heir apparent and the other members of his family.

WESTERN MEN ON COMMITTEES

Result of Insurgent Campaign in the Senate.

CONCESSION TO YOUNGER MEN

Work of Distributing Republican Committee Assignments So Regarded. Flint of California Will Be Chairman of Committee on Inter-oceanic Canals and La Follette of Wisconsin Will Head the Census Committee.

Washington, March 19.—The work by the committee on committees of filling Republican vacancies on senate committees has been concluded, resulting in giving to Western senators very much greater representation on the important committees. This is regarded as the direct result of the campaign that has been carried on for a long time by the "insurgents." It is asserted that never before in the history of the senate have the Western states been so fully represented on these important committees as they are now to be. There had been suggestions of a refusal on the part of some Western senators to go into the Republican caucus to confirm these committee assignments next Monday unless the distribution of committee assignments was fairly satisfactory to them.

The Democratic steering committee is still at work endeavoring to make a disposition of Democratic vacancies on committees and is about ready to report. The Republican committee on committees will accept its recommendations for Democratic appointments without opposition.

The work of distributing the Republican committee assignments has been a complete concession to the younger and Western senators, so that none of the veterans has increased his committee memberships. Most of the vacancies have gone to the far West.

More Republicans on Committees.

In one or two instances the Republican representation on important committees has been increased by the addition of one or two members without a corresponding addition to the Democratic membership. In no instance, however, has the number of Democrats on a committee been reduced.

One new committee, that on conservation of national resources, has been created. The committee on finance, as reorganized, contains one more senator from the far West. Of the eight Republican members, four are now from the West, and two from West of the Missouri river.

Vacancies were caused by the death of Senator Allison and by the retirement of Senators Platt, Hansbrough and Hopkins. These vacancies have been filled by the appointment of Senators Lodge of Massachusetts, Flint of California, Smoot of Utah and Cullom of Illinois.

The three vacancies on the committee on appropriations will be filled by the appointment of Senators Curtis of Kansas, Burkett of Nebraska and Kean of New Jersey.

The one Republican vacancy on the committee on foreign relations has been given to Senator Root, former secretary of state, who takes the place of Mr. Foraker. Senators Sutherland and Borah will go on the judiciary, and Senators Dixon of Montana and Brown of Nebraska will go on military affairs. Senator Crane will become chairman of the committee on rules and Senator Perkins will become chairman of naval affairs. Senator Flint of California will become chairman of the committee on inter-oceanic canals and Senator La Follette will go to the head of the census committee. These are both rapid promotions.

CONSIDERED MORE HOPEFUL

Balkan Situation Not Believed to Be So Serious.

Vienna, March 19.—The situation is now considered more hopeful. The emperor expressed his belief that peace would be maintained, and in the lower house, the minister for defense again denied rumors of mobilization. It is believed that international negotiations now going on will tend toward the assembling of a conference of the powers.

Three Killed by Gas.

Toronto, Ont., March 19.—Robert Tanner, his son and his little daughter were asphyxiated by gas at their home here, their dead bodies being found by neighbors. The gas had been turned on accidentally, it is thought. The family came recently from Ireland.

INSURRECTION IN CUBA IS ENDED

Rebel Leader and His Followers Surrender.

Havana, March 19.—Sergeant Cortes, leader of the insurrectionists, and his whole band surrendered to the civil authorities of Remedios, in Santa Clara province.

The interest in the insurrection is declining, it now being evident that the insurgents have been disappointed in receiving support and the movement is abortive.

The killing of ex-Captain Lavastida by the rural guard while, as it was alleged, attempting to escape, has excited much unfavorable comment. General Loynaz del Castillo is heading a movement to investigate the incident. General Castillo denounces the killing as murder and demands that a stringent inquiry be made. President Gomez, in consequence of this, has already appointed a special judge to investigate the affair.

Local stocks on the Havana exchange rallied somewhat after the decline of the past two days.

FOUR PERSONS BADLY HURT

Thrilling Rescue Made From Burning Building.

New York, March 19.—Fire in an apartment house on West Fifty-ninth street known as the Fifth Avenue apartments, caused the serious injury of four persons, saw some thrilling rescues and brought more or less fright to the many patrons of the fashionable Plaza hotel, which immediately adjoins the burning building.

The fire started on the fifth floor of the apartment house and quickly extended to the upper floors. Twenty-four families occupied the building and when the alarm was given the tenants, panic-stricken, fled from the building. Most of them escaped safely, but John W. McDonald, formerly a well known newspaper man and employed in Comptroller Metz' office; his son, John R. McDonald, and Mrs. J. W. Simpson and her daughter, were cut off by the flames. It seemed as if they must perish in the flames, but the firemen made a daring rescue, carrying the imperiled people to the street by means of extension ladders. All were seriously burned and were carried into the Plaza hotel, where physicians attended them.

Several other tenants, as well as a number of firemen engaged in rescue work, were painfully burned.

The property loss is estimated at $125,000.

Chief of Police Shot.

Elkins, W. Va., March 19.—Scott White, chief of police of Whitmer, W. Va., near here, was shot and probably fatally wounded by Joe Brown, an escaped convict.

John Thompson Writes Interestingly of His New Surroundings and Conditions as He Finds Them

In order to keep my promise I will write you, endeavoring to describe my impression of things in this part of the North Star state where I am now located.

I left Brainerd March 21st after having lived in Brainerd for 23 years, and it was the first time I had been away from home to stay any length of time. I reached International Falls after 10 o'clock that night and went from there to Ranier on the stage, a distance of two and a half miles. I found Mr. Davis, the gentleman in charge of the customs office here, and was soon installed in the line of work I was to follow. The train from Duluth arrives here at 12:55 and the one from Winnipeg comes at 1:55, both night trains. Mr. Davis did the work necessary on the first trip over with myself a close observer, and for the first time I set foot on Canadian soil. There is nothing very dissimilar between Canadians and Americans, but one peculiarity amused me—when they meet a friend they say "good night," the same as we would when leaving a friend, but now I am used to that expression and use it myself. We went through the coaches and inspected and checked up all the grips, trunks, baggage and express and was back to Ranier in an hour. The passenger trains are not the only ones we inspect, but the freight as well which comes every other day and there is considerable work with this train as well as the passenger trains.

The second day here I looked the town of Ranier over and it took me about 15 minutes. The town is very nicely situated on Rainy lake, but the lake can not all be seen from here as there are many bays and it does not look as large as it really is. An abundance of fish are caught here every day, and shipments are made east. They get fancy prices this time of the year, one party telling me today that they got 22 cents per pound for pike in New York city. The fish are mostly pike, pickerel (known as jack fish here,) and suckers, which are caught with nets and shipments made every night.

One of the interesting objects here is what is known as a lift bridge. It is of mammoth construction and is run by a gasoline engine, although should the engine fail to work it is so evenly balanced that two men can raise it. Its length is about half that of our steel railroad bridge and it is made of steel. One end of the bridge has a huge tank filled with several thousand tons of pig iron to give it an almost even balance. On the Canadian side of the lake is an Indian Catholic mission school with an attendance of over 400 little Indian boys and girls striving to get an education in the English language. At Ranier we have a good school building with two teachers and an attendance of about 50 pupils. Churches we have none, but the Presbyterian minister from the Falls comes over every other Sunday and conducts services at the homes of the generous citizens who throw their houses open for that purpose. There are seven sa'oons here and they never close for there are no locks on the doors—a good chance for Ike White to come and take a contract pitting them on. You might think this a very rowdy place, but it is not, you don't see as much rowdyism here as in Brainerd.

What are the opportunities for opening up some kind of business here, you might ask. To tell the truth about it the chances are not as good as they might be, it all depends whether the Canadian Northern will put in shops at this point or some other place. They are going to spend $250,000 this summer between here and Virginia on the Duluth, Rainy Lake & Winnipeg branch which has been absorbed by the Canadian Northern. In the event of this place getting the shops there would be a good opening for a drug store, none here now, and a clothing store. We have no barber shop here and a good barber can make a barrel of money here this summer as it is expected thousands of tourists from all over the country will visit this section. I do not know of anything more that will interest the readers of THE DISPATCH, and with kindest regards to all my Brainerd friends, and in behalf of the little village of Ranier I extend to you all a welcome here this summer should you desire to lay aside your business cares and take an outing, for a better place I do not think you can find in the state.

The business car of the Minnesota & International railway will be sent to the Como shops for a thorough overhauling. It had been the intention to do this soon but its departure was hastened by an accident which occurred while setting it in onto the ice house track Thursday afternoon. A coupling between it and a stock car let loose and it shot down the side track with such force that it drove the trucks of a passenger coach which stood there clear over the bumpers at the end of the track. The end sill of the "50" was cracked, some of the furniture and many of the dishes in the car broken by the impact. The car will be repaired and other ways put in first class shape while at the shops.

down in health forced him to abandon the law, and he embarked in the grocery business in Chicago. Burned out in the great fire, he rebuilt and became president of a citizens' committee that revised the government of Chicago and practically made the present fire department. A Republican in politics, he bolted Blaine in 1884 and afterward worked with the Democrats. He declined a nomination for mayor, but afterward accepted that for United States senator and canvassed the state, but his party was a minority in the succeeding legislature. He has been at the head of various civil service, charitable and literary bodies in Chicago and served as a member of the National Civic federation. In the last campaign he abandoned Bryan and returned to the Republican party. Mr. MacVeagh is tall, spare, rather reserved, but with a ready wit. He is a combination of classic scholar and multimillionaire. He married the daughter of a bank president and has been himself chairman of the board of directors of a national bank.

Jacob McGavock Dickinson, selected by Mr. Taft as his secretary of war, is the attorney for the Illinois Central railroad. Like Mr. MacVeagh, Judge Dickinson is a Democrat who bolted Bryan, and, like MacVeagh also, he is a resident of Chicago, though accredited to Tennessee. The new war secretary is the grandson of Felix Grundy, a former attorney general of the United States, and has been himself assistant attorney general. He has also been judge of the supreme court of Tennessee, counsel of the United States before the Alaskan boundary commission and a professor of law in Vanderbilt university. He is about fifty-five years of age, served for three months in the Confederate army, graduated from the University of Tennessee and afterward studied at Leipzig and Paris. He belongs to the best of southern families.

Shoved Into Politics by a Car.

George von Lengerke Meyer, chosen

Hitchcock with him, first into the department of commerce and labor, which the two of them organized, then into the Republican national headquarters in the campaign of 1904, next into the postoffice department, with Cortelyou at the head and Hitchcock as his first assistant. Now he returns to it as the head. During the recent campaign Frank Hitchcock was called "the human card index," "the tower of silence" and other names that should not be printed in a moral newspaper. He is forty-two years old, well groomed, is both tall and heavy and looks like an athlete. He is no longer a bird expert, his chief study now being politicians. He has them all classified as a naturalist classifies bugs.

George W. Wickersham, the new attorney general, is the Wall street law partner of Henry W. Taft, the president elect's brother. He hails from Pennsylvania, has been an attorney for the Ryan and Belmont interests in New York, helped to put the suspended Knickerbocker Trust company back on its feet and is highly recommended by Senator Knox. He is known as an office lawyer, has practiced in New York for twenty years, belongs to the old school and has the highest rating in his profession as an attorney of big financial interests. With such precedents and training he may be expected not to "run amuck."

Authority on Law.

Richard A. Ballinger, Mr. Taft's secretary of the interior, was a classmate of James R. Garfield, the present holder of that portfolio. As a result Garfield tried to get him to be commissioner of the general land office, but Ballinger declined. Garfield insisted, and Mr. Ballinger at last reluctantly consented. He held the office one year and in that time reorganized it from top to bottom. He then resigned and returned to his law practice. When appointing Ballinger, Roosevelt remarked that they were getting a $20,000 man for $5,000. The new secretary of the interior was born in Iowa in 1858, his father having studied law with Abraham Lincoln. The son went to Kansas and embarked in the cattle business at the age of seventeen. He got a preparatory education in the University of Kansas and Washburn college and graduated from Williams college in 1884. He practiced law for a time at Boonesboro, Ill., then went south and was prosecuting attorney of a county in Alabama, returned to Chicago, where he practiced two years, then went to Seattle, Wash., his present home. There he was judge

BIG CAVE IN ADIRONDACKS.

Explorer Penetrates It 1,000 Feet and Thinks It Rivals Mammoth Cave.

In one of the most secluded parts of the Adirondacks, on the summit of a mountain little frequented by sight-seers or sportsmen, Captain E. E. Thomas of Saranac Lake, N. Y., has discovered an opening to a great cavern. He went inside for about a thousand feet, and there seemed no end to the distance he could penetrate with proper equipment.

Captain Thomas, who is an old time woodsman, stumbled upon the mouth of the cave, which is on "W" mountain, several miles from Standish, some time ago, but kept the matter quiet until he should have a chance to investigate.

"I thought at the time that it seemed rather larger than the usual run of caves in the Adirondacks," he said the other day, "but I never dreamed of its being as large as it really is. that he could be as loyal to the government at $8,000 a year as he had been to private concerns at $100,000 or more. Knox served but a short time with McKinley, his great work as attorney general occurring under Theodore Roosevelt. His most notable achievements were galvanizing anti-trust law into life, dissolving the Northern Securities merger and negotiating the purchase of the Panama canal from France. On the death of Matthew Stanley Quay he was appointed senator from Pennsylvania and was afterward elected by the legislature. In the senate, contrary to custom, he immediately became a leader and took rank as one of the great constitutional lawyers of that body. He was born in 1853 at Brownsville, Pa., the little city on the Monongahela that gave rise to James G. Blaine. Knox was educated at Mount Union college, Ohio; admitted to the bar at twenty-two, began practice at Pittsburg, was United States district attorney in 1876-7, but resigned to form the firm of Knox & Reed, which was long a leader at the Pittsburg bar. In appearance he is short, dapper, well dressed and polished. He talks quickly and smoothly. He is bright without levity and able without solemnity. The chief impression he gives is one of dry intellect. His recreations are driving good horses and reading books, books, books.

Classic Scholar and Multimillionaire

Franklin MacVeagh, chosen to be the new secretary of the treasury, is a brother of Wayne MacVeagh, Garfield's attorney general, and has generally been classed as a mugwump in politics. Like Senator Knox, he was born in Pennsylvania, but in Erie, a city of Chicago. He is now 45 years of age, is the son of a farmer, a graduate of Yale and was educated for the law, spending a year in the practice in New York city, where he helped Judge Edmunds to revise the New York statutes. A break-for secretary of the navy, is the former postmaster general. In that position he shook things up by his persistent advocacy of postal savings banks and the parcels post. He was also minister to Italy and ambassador to Russia, where he took high rank socially and hobnobbed with royalty. In our present Washington society that sort of thing cuts ice. Mr. Meyer was born in Boston in 1858 and, of course, was graduated from Harvard. He was a rich man's son and is yet richer himself, being connected with many corporations. He was shoved into politics by a street car. There was a threat of a trolley line on his aristocratic street, and young Meyer started out to defeat the heinous thing. He fought to such good purpose that before he realized the depths to which he was sinking he found himself a member of the common council. He then went to the legislature and for three terms was speaker of the house. He wanted to go to congress, but Henry Cabot Lodge could not see it that way and gave Meyer the post of minister to Italy as a consolation prize. From that this young man went up step by step until now he is to sit in a swivel chair and watch the navy bureaucrats run Uncle Sam's big ships.

Uncle Sam's Chief Postmaster.

Massachusetts is to have two cabinet positions, the other one going to Frank H. Hitchcock, chairman of the Republican national committee. Hitchcock acquired Massachusetts, however, having been born in Ohio, like other great men. He went to the Bay State because his father was a preacher and was called there. Then he (the boy) went to Harvard. Next he went to studying law at nights, ran for George B. Cortelyou, who was doing the same thing, and, lo, he was made Cortelyou began to rise and too of the superior court, United States court commissioner and mayor of Seattle. He is author of several lawbooks.

Fighter of Bosses.

Charles Nagel of Missouri, new secretary of commerce and labor, is a fighter of bosses, a devotee of art and a high class lawyer. He is better known among lawyers and educators than to the public at large, although he served as a member of the Missouri house of representatives and is a member of the Republican national committee. He is a native westerner, having been born in Colorado county, Tex., in 1849. In the height of the civil war the pronounced Union sentiments of his father, Dr. Herman Nagel, compelled him to remove from Texas to St. Louis. Here Charles Nagel soon entered the St. Louis high school. Graduating from there, he took a two years' course in the St. Louis Law school and then went to the University of Berlin, where he took a special course in law and political economy. Returning to St. Louis in 1873, he was admitted to the bar and soon had an active part in municipal affairs. He was for four years president of the city council of St. Louis.

If Secretary James Wilson continues to hold the agricultural portfolio until next November he will have broken the record for continuous cabinet service, which is now held by Albert Gallatin, once secretary of the treasury, who served twelve years, eight months and twenty-five days. Secretary Wilson was appointed at the outset of the McKinley administration. He was born in Ayrshire, Scotland, in 1835, and at the age of seventeen was brought to this country by his parents. He was educated in the public schools of Iowa and at Iowa college. He engaged in farming and, entering state politics, was a member of the twelfth, thirteenth and fourteenth assemblies of Iowa, being elected speaker of the assembly in his last term. He served three terms in congress.

President Taft's Cabinet Officials

Snappy Side Lights Will Help the Chief the Ship of State.

on the Men Who Executive to Steer

By JAMES A. EDGERTON. THE cabinet is not provided for by the constitution, but neither is the flag. The constitution could not look after everything. The cabinet is purely an advisory board and sometimes scarcely that. It depends on the president. Some of our chief executives would listen to advice by the yard and then go ahead and do as they pleased. Others would not even listen and still do as they pleased. Yet cabinets are useful institutions. They are handy to have around as foils when the boss is trying to find out what he wants to do and as goats to take the blame if things go wrong. Every president has had at least one cabinet and some of them two or three. Roosevelt has had his official cabinet, his tennis cabinet and General Leonard Wood.

After March 4 the country will have only one living ex-president, but nobody knows how many ex-cabinet officers. Moreover, nobody cares. The average cabinet officer is an important man while on the job, but not before nor after. He is like the Scriptural wind—we hear the sound thereof, but know not whence he cometh nor whither he goeth. And, again, we do not care. So far as the national consciousness is concerned, very many of our cabinet members have emerged from oblivion and to oblivion have returned. Of the cabinet given out, though unofficially, as that to be selected by President Taft, only four members, Knox, Meyer, Hitchcock and Wilson, have what might be properly called national reputations. The other five are known only in spots.

Great Constitutional Lawyer.

Philander Chase Knox, the new secretary of state, is a McKinley find and a Roosevelt development. McKinley and Knox were in college together. At the time of his selection as attorney general Mr. Knox's appointment was widely criticised for the reason that he had been a corporation lawyer. Yet his chief fame in that office was gained in prosecuting the trusts. He proved down in health forced him to abandon the law, and he embarked in the grocery business in Chicago. Burned out in the great fire, he rebuilt and became president of a citizens' committee that revised the government of Chicago and practically made the present fire department. A Republican in politics, he bolted Blaine in 1884 and afterward worked with the Democrats. He declined a nomination for mayor, but afterward accepted that for United States senator and canvassed the state, but his party was a minority in the succeeding legislature. He has been at the head of various civil service, charitable and literary bodies in Chicago and served as a member of the National Civic federation. In the last campaign he abandoned Bryan and returned to the Republican party. Mr. MacVeagh is tall, spare, rather reserved, but with a ready wit. He is a combination of classic scholar and multimillionaire. He married the daughter of a bank president and has been himself chairman of the board of directors of a national bank.

Jacob McGavock Dickinson, selected by Mr. Taft as his secretary of war, is the attorney for the Illinois Central railroad. Like Mr. MacVeagh, Judge Dickinson is a Democrat who bolted Bryan, and, like MacVeagh also, he is a resident of Chicago, though accredited to Tennessee. The new war secretary is the grandson of Felix Grundy, a former attorney general of the United States, and has been himself assistant attorney general. He has also been judge of the supreme court of Tennessee, counsel of the United States before the Alaskan boundary commission and a professor of law in Vanderbilt university. He is about fifty-five years of age, served for three months in the Confederate army, graduated from the University of Tennessee and afterward studied at Leipzig and Paris. He belongs to the best of southern families.

Shoved Into Politics by a Car.

George von Lengerke Meyer, chosen

Hitchcock with him, first into the department of commerce and labor, which the two of them organized, then into Republican national headquarters in the campaign of 1904, next into the postoffice department, with Cortelyou at the head and Hitchcock as his first assistant. Now he returns to it as the head. During the recent campaign Frank Hitchcock was called "the human card index," "the tower of silence" and other names that should not be printed in a moral newspaper. He is forty-two years old, well groomed, is both tall and heavy and looks like an athlete. He is no longer a bird expert, his chief study now being politicians. He has them all classified as a naturalist classifies bugs.

George W. Wickersham, the new attorney general, is the Wall street law partner of Henry W. Taft, the president elect's brother. He hails from Pennsylvania, has been an attorney for the Ryan and Belmont interests in New York, helped to put the suspended Knickerbocker Trust company back on its feet and is highly recommended by Senator Knox. He is known as an office lawyer, has practiced in New York for twenty years, belongs to the old school and has the highest rating in his profession as an attorney of big financial interests. With such precedents and training he may be expected not to "run amuck."

Authority on Law.

Richard A. Ballinger, Mr. Taft's secretary of the interior, was a classmate of James R. Garfield, the present holder of that portfolio. As a result Garfield tried to get him to be commissioner of the general land office, but Ballinger declined. Garfield insisted, and Mr. Ballinger at last reluctantly consented. He held the office one year and in that time reorganized it from top to bottom. He then resigned and returned to his law practice. When appointing Ballinger, Roosevelt remarked that they were getting a $20,000 man for $5,000. The new secretary of the interior was born in Iowa in 1858, his father having studied law with Abraham Lincoln. The son went to Kansas and embarked in the cattle business at the age of seventeen. He got a preparatory education in the University of Kansas and Washburn college and graduated from Williams college in 1884. He practiced law for a time at Boonesboro, Ill., then went south and was prosecuting attorney of a county in Alabama, returned to Chicago, where he practiced two years, then went to Seattle, Wash., his present home. There he was judge

NORMAL SCHOOL FOR CASS LAKE

Senate Passes Bill Locating It in That City.

OPPOSE THE NOLAN MEASURE

St. Paul and Minneapolis Do Not Want Their Power of Regulating the Street Railways Taken Away—Four Election Bills Killed by Senate Committee—Tuberculin Test Measure Killed by the Senate.

St. Paul, March 19.—By a vote of 32 to 25 the senate put the stamp of its approval on Cass Lake as the most fitting site for the sixth normal school of the state.

Four election bills were killed by the senate committee on elections. They included the house bill making provision for voting of traveling men when away from home, and the new bill by Senators Sullivan and Canfield relating to the change in the primary law. The committee amended this bill so as to not apply to congressmen and then Senator Canfield himself made the motion for indefinite postponement.

The bill preserved most of the present primary system. Senator Canfield urged that the congressmen should be omitted from the present primary, as it permitted Democratic congressmen to represent normally Republican districts.

The committee also killed the bill changing the time of the primaries to June and the bill requiring a statement of the origin of the money spent on the elections.

The senate killed a bill for tuberculin tested dairy products and the house bill relating to semi-monthly payment of wages in addition to several minor bills.

Tuberculin Test Bill Killed.

Senator J. W. Wright's bill relating to dairy products permitted creameries to demand that none but milk from tuberculin-tested cows be delivered, and then the creamery might stamp the butter as being free from tuberculous germs. But the senate killed the bill with only 10 votes in its favor.

The semi-monthly payment bill was killed with 24 votes for it, and was preceded by a sharp fight and a call of the senate.

After a tilt among the lawyers of the body, Senator G. P. Wilson's bill permitting the distribution of a man's estate after he has been absent for seven years was killed by 31 to 18. One more vote would have passed it.

The bill giving permission to the state board of health to issue regulations concerning cleanliness in factories was also killed.

The senate by a narrow margin passed the bill compelling the sale of many vegetables by weight instead of measure. If the bill passes the house potatoes will be sold by the pound instead of by the bushel. The law was amended by striking out sweet potatoes, tomatoes and other articles, but most vegetables and all kinds of grain and seed are included in the provision.

Minneapolis members in the house made an effort to kill the Rowe packing plant bill, but before it came to a vote they changed their minds. J. G. Lennon, who had made a motion to have the bill taken from general orders and indefinitely postponed, withdrew his motion and instead had the bill made a special order for next Thursday afternoon.

Want to Retain Their Power.

That St. Paul and Minneapolis do not want their power of regulating the street railways taken away was made plain to the judiciary committee of the house of representatives by representatives from the two cities. That the country is equally anxious to have electric lines placed under some central body, which will facilitate the building of interurban lines, was also made plain, and it is now up to the subcommittee to draft a bill which will satisfy both sides.

The hearing before the judiciary committee on the Nolan bill placing all street railways under the railroad commission was one of the warmest at the capital during the session. The Minneapolis aldermen were out in full force, and Mr. Nolan and his friends were there to oppose them warmly at every turn.

The house recommended to pass by the bills included two bills for constitutional amendments to promote reforestation, Carl Wallace's bill regulating the provisions to be contained in accident insurance policies, T. J. Brady's anti-cigarette bill, John Spence's bill permitting counties to spend money for advertising their resources, D. Robertson's bill providing that the wholesaler and not the retailer shall be prosecuted for violations of the food laws, G. A. Mackenzie's bill to prevent killing of wild animals on state forest reserves, L. C. Spooner's bill limiting telegraph tolls to 25 cents for ten words within the state, J. J. Opsahl's dynamite bill and W. H. Putnam's bill repealing the horse thief and tree planting bounties.

BEFORE GOING TO AFRICA

Last Public Utterances of Theodore Roosevelt.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., March 19.—Theodore Roosevelt received at his home on Sagamore Hill "Roosevelt's" neighbors of Nassau county, N. Y., a delegation of 250 prominent men, Republicans and Democrats, whom he had planned to receive at the White House on March 3, but who failed on account of the storm to reach Washington in time. To them the former president from the veranda of his home made his last public utterances prior to his departure for Africa. His remarks were mainly of appreciation of the visit, but he assured them that he intends to disprove the gloomy foreboding of Professor Starr, who declared that Mr. Roosevelt will not come out of Africa alive if he follows the itinerary he has mapped out. He promised those present if he proved he is right, that in a year and a quarter they would celebrate together. From this remark it appears that Mr. Roosevelt will be absent from the United States no longer than fifteen months.

Wearing silk hats and dark raincoats, with a red carnation in the buttonhole and carrying umbrellas rolled tightly, the delegation arrived on a special train from Mineola and other towns near by. They appeared as they did in the inaugural parade in Washington. Headed by a band, the colors and a banner with the delegation's name and an escutcheon bearing a lion, the party marched by furs up Sagamore Hill. They presented a striking appearance as they approached the house.

On the veranda to greet them was Mr. Roosevelt and a party, consisting of William Loeb, Jr., collector of the port of New York and former secretary to the president, Congressman W. W. Cooks of this district; Republican National Committeeman W. L. Ward of New York, and former Congressman Littauer.

PUBLIC SERVICE IS PARALYZED

Strike in France Continues to Spread Rapidly.

Paris, March 19.—The entire public service is paralyzed and business, both public and private, is in a condition of inextricable confusion as a result of the continued strike of postal and telegraph employees.

Throughout the day the situation in the capital and the provinces grew worse with every hour. The undelivered letters number into the millions and 300,000 telegrams are stacked up awaiting distribution. Foreign incoming mails remain unsorted and only a small proportion of the outgoing mails have been sent away.

The climax of the strike was reached when 5,000 repairmen, linemen and mechanics decided to join the strikers. These were the last remaining workmen employed by the post administration.

There is no indication of a break in the deadlock between the government and its striking employees. The strike will be made the subject of consideration in the chamber of deputies and a solution of the problem may then be furnished.

Despite the fact that the cabinet at its night session passed a decree authorizing the dismissal of its late employees from the state service, and reaffirmed its determination not to yield, the semi-official note giving the result of the meeting also announced that many merchants have offered to lend to the government their employees to insure the public services. This is indicative of the completeness of the tie-up and the extremity to which the government has been forced.

The note does not mention the sensational rumor that the government intends to call the reservists to the colors, thus gathering in practically all the male postal employees and forcing them to work as soldiers under penalty of mutiny.

LOUISVILLE DEPOT BURNED

Loss Placed at Four Hundred Thousand Dollars.

Louisville, Ky., March 19.—By the destruction here at a loss of $400,000 of the union depot, the local terminal for five of the country's chief railroads, Louisville will probably benefit by a new union station. This was decided by the Commercial club half an hour after the building at Seventh street and the Ohio river was a mass of smoking embers and debris.

Crossed wires are believed to be responsible for the blaze, which had made an empty shell of the depot before the entire fire department of the city, which was called, had arrived.

WROUGHT UP OVER MATTER

Possibility of Armed Intervention by the United States Not to Their Liking—War Preparations Being Carried on in Central America on a Large Scale—Zelaya Learns of Plot to Isolate Nicaragua.

City of Mexico, March 19.—An effort is being made to have the presidents of the republics of Nicaragua, Honduras, Salvador and Guatemala meet within the next fortnight and forestall any intervention in Central America on the part of the United States. This bit of news reached this capital in the shape of an official dispatch. The idea of the conference is to remove all possible cause for intervention. The dispatch adds that the Central Americans are greatly wrought up over the possibility of armed intervention by the United States.

It is reported here that war preparations are being carried on in Central America on a larger scale than ever. According to a dispatch received here, President Zelaya of Nicaragua has learned of a plot whereby President Davila of Honduras, his former ally, has deserted him and has joined President Cabrera of Guatemala and President Figueroa of Salvador in a conspiracy to isolate Nicaragua. The massing of 6,000 troops on the Honduran frontier is for the purpose of frightening Davila back into his old alliance. It is also President Zelaya's plan to put Dr. Prudecencia Alfaro in the presidential chair of Salvador.

With these moves accomplished he will have turned the tables on his old enemy, Estrada Cabrera of Guatemala, and have isolated that country.

Washington, March 19.—Central American affairs continue to be an important topic of discussion at the state department. All the representatives from the Central American republics went to the department and discussed with Secretary Knox the situation, which has caused anxiety among some of the countries and concern to this government and to Mexico.

Word received here is that military activity in Nicaragua continues and she is charged with being the sole cause of the unsettled conditions in Central America.

DRAMATIC SCENE IN COURT

Follows Acquittal of Luman C. Mann, Accused of Murder.

Chicago, March 19.—Dramatic scenes accompanied the acquittal here of Luman C. Mann, charged with the murder of Mrs. Frances Gilmore Thompson last June. The evidence against Mann was circumstantial; his defense an alibi. The jury took but one ballot.

With the words "not guilty" from the lips of the foreman, the scene in Judge McSurely's court became one of excitement bordering on hysteria.

"I've been a bad man, but years from now you'll hear of me as an honest citizen," Mann said in thanking the jury. Tears were rolling down his cheeks and his sobs made it almost impossible for him to speak.

"We knew you were innocent," said one of the jurors, his tears flowing freely. Other jurors furtively applied handkerchiefs to their eyes as Mann returned to his mother, throwing his arms about her neck and crying like a child.

Women who have been constant attendants at the trial, weeping and all trying to talk at once, made a rush for Attorney Erbstein, who defended Mann. Several of them tried to kiss him and it is said some of them succeeded before he made his escape.

Determining the exact dimensions and equipment of the Clermont has been difficult, and it is only through the efforts of the late Rear Admiral Joseph B. Coghlan, naval constructor; William J. According to the plans, the Clermont will be seen exactly as she appeared in 1807 and will duplicate her maiden trip, starting from her original slip and landing at the same pier in Albany. JUMPING CACTUS.

Cactus Is the Name Mexican Travelers Give to Aggressive Plant.

Travelers returning to Torreon, Mexico, from the mountains have discovered, it is said, a new species of cactus, which they have named "catus" because they say it springs upon travelers like a cat and makes them "cuss."

The "catus," it is alleged, grows upon a stalk and is shaped like a small ball and covered with spines. Travelers claim that it is attracted by the warmth of a human or animal body and that it springs from its stem on to the passerby, the spines piercing the flesh and holding on like a cactus spine.

NORMAL SCHOOL FOR CASS LAKE

Senate Passes Bill Locating It In That City.

OPPOSE THE NOLAN MEASURE

St. Paul and Minneapolis Do Not Want Their Power of Regulating the Street Railways Taken Away—Four Election Bills Killed by Senate Committee—Tuberculin Test Measure Killed by the Senate.

St. Paul, March 19.—By a vote of 32 to 25 the senate put the stamp of its approval on Cass Lake as the most fitting site for the sixth normal school of the state.

Four election bills were killed by the senate committee on elections. They included the house bill making provision for voting of traveling men when away from home, and the new bill by Senators Sullivan and Canfield relating to the change in the primary law. The committee amended this bill so as to not apply to congressmen and then Senator Canfield himself made the motion for indefinite postponement.

The bill preserved most of the present primary system. Senator Canfield urged that the congressmen should be omitted from the present primary, as it permitted Democratic congressmen to represent normally Republican districts.

The committee also killed the bill changing the time of the primaries to June and the bill requiring a statement of the origin of the money spent on the elections.

The senate killed a bill for tuberculin tested dairy products and the house bill relating to semi-monthly payment of wages in addition to several minor bills.

Tuberculin Test Bill Killed.

Senator J. W. Wright's bill relating to dairy products permitted creameries to demand that none but milk from tuberculin-tested cows be delivered, and then the creamery might stamp the butter as being free from tuberculous germs. But the senate killed the bill with only 10 votes in its favor. The semi-monthly payment bill was killed with 24 votes for it, and was preceded by a sharp fight and a call of the senate.

After a tilt among the lawyers of the body, Senator G. P. Wilson's bill permitting the distribution of a man's estate after he has been absent for seven years was killed by 31 to 18. One more vote would have passed it. The bill giving permission to the state board of health to issue regulations concerning cleanliness in factories was also killed.

The senate by a narrow margin passed the bill compelling the sale of many vegetables by weight instead of measure. If the bill passes the house potatoes will be sold by the pound instead of by the bushel. The law was amended by striking out sweet potatoes, tomatoes and other articles, but most vegetables and all kinds of grain and seed are included in the provision.

Minneapolis members in the house made an effort to kill the Rowe packing plant bill, but before it came to a vote they changed their minds. J. G. Lennon, who had made a motion to have the bill taken from general orders and indefinitely postponed, withdrew his motion and instead had the bill made a special order for next Thursday afternoon.

Want to Retain Their Power.

That St. Paul and Minneapolis do not want their power of regulating the street railways taken away was made plain to the judiciary committee of the house of representatives by representatives from the two cities. That the country is equally anxious to have electric lines placed under some central body, which will facilitate the building of interurban lines, was also made plain, and it is now up to the sub-committee to draft a bill which will satisfy both sides.

The hearing before the judiciary committee on the Nolan bill placing all street railways under the railroad commission was one of the warmest at the capitol during the session. The Minneapolis aldermen were out in full force, and Mr. Nolan and his friends were there to oppose them warmly at every turn.

The bills recommended to pass by the house included two bills for constitutional amendments to promote reforestation, Carl Wallace's bill regulating the provisions to be contained in accident insurance policies, T. J. Brady's anti-cigarette bill, John Spence's bill permitting counties to spend money for advertising their resources, D. Robertson's bill providing that the wholesaler and not the retailer shall be prosecuted for violations of the food laws, G. A. Mackenzie's bill to prevent killing of wild animals on state forest reserves, L. C. Spooner's bill limiting telegraph tolls to 25 cents for ten words within the state, J. J. Opsahl's dynamite bill and W. H. Putnam's bill repealing the horse thief and tree planting bounties.

The house began consideration of the employees' compensation bill, drafted by the special committee. It was continued as a special order until next Tuesday.

BEFORE GOING TO AFRICA

Last Public Utterances of Theodore Roosevelt.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., March 19.—Theodore Roosevelt received at his home on Sagamore Hill "Roosevelt's" neighbors of Nassau county, N. Y., a delegation of 250 prominent men, Republicans and Democrats, whom he had planned to receive at the White House on March 3, but who failed on account of the storm to reach Washington in time. To them the former president from the veranda of his home made his last public utterances prior to his departure for Africa. His remarks were mainly of appreciation of the visit, but he assured them that he intends to disprove the gloomy foreboding of Professor Starr, who declared that Mr. Roosevelt will not come out of Africa alive if he follows the itinerary he has mapped out. He promised those present if he proved he is right, that in a year and a quarter they would celebrate together. From this remark it appears that Mr. Roosevelt will be absent from the United States no longer than fifteen months.

Wearing silk hats and dark raincoats, with a red carnation in the buttonhole and carrying umbrellas rolled tightly, the delegation arrived on a special train from Mineola and other towns near by. They appeared as they did in the inaugural parade in Washington. Headed by a band, the colors and a banner with the delegation's name and an escutcheon bearing a lion, the party marched by fours up Sagamore Hill. They presented a striking appearance as they approached the house.

On the veranda to greet them was Mr. Roosevelt and a party, consisting of William Loeb, Jr., collector of the port of New York and former secretary to the president, Congressman W. W. Cooks of this district; Republican National Committeeman W. L. Ward of New York, and former Congressman Littauer.

PUBLIC SERVICE IS PARALYZED

Strike in France Continues to Spread Rapidly.

Paris, March 19.—The entire public service is paralyzed and business, both public and private, is in a condition of inextricable confusion as a result of the continued strike of postal and telegraph employees.

Throughout the day the situation in the capital and the provinces grew worse with every hour. The undelivered letters number into the millions and 300,000 telegrams are stacked up awaiting distribution. Foreign incoming mails remain unsorted and only a small proportion of the outgoing mails have been sent away.

The climax of the strike was reached when 5,000 repairmen, linemen and mechanics decided to join the strikers. These were the last remaining workmen employed by the post administration.

There is no indication of a break in the deadlock between the government and its striking employees. The strike will be made the subject of consideration in the chamber of deputies and a solution of the problem may then be furnished.

Despite the fact that the cabinet at its night session passed a decree authorizing the dismissal of its late employees from the state service, and reaffirmed its determination not to yield, the semi-official note giving the result of the meeting also announced that many merchants have offered to lead to the government their employees to insure the public services. This is indicative of the completeness of the tie-up and the extremity to which the government has been forced.

The note does not mention the sensational rumor that the government intends to call the reservists to the colors, thus gathering in practically all the male postal employees and forcing them to work as soldiers under penalty of mutiny.

LOUISVILLE DEPOT BURNED

Loss Placed at Four Hundred Thousand Dollars.

Louisville, Ky., March 19.—By the destruction here at a loss of $400,000 of the union depot, the local terminal for five of the country's chief railroads, Louisville will probably benefit by a new union station. BIRTHS EXCEED

406 Were Born and 239 Died in
Crow Wing County During
Year of 1908

RECORD GOOD IN BRAINERD

226 Births and 179 Deaths Occurred in the City During the Same Period

W. A. M. Johnston, clerk of the district court has received the mortuary statistics for the year 1908 from the secretary of the state board of health. The showing is very gratifying, the total births for the year being 406 and the total deaths only 239. In the city of Brainerd alone there were 226 births and 179 deaths. At first glance it would seem that the showing for the city was not nearly so good as for the country districts, but it must be borne in mind that the hospitals of Brainerd add materially to the number of deaths in the city. This is in no sense a reflection upon the hospitals which are all of them doing splendid work, but is rather because of the excellent character and reputation of these institutions which cause desperately injured and critically ill people to be brought here not only from all parts of the county, but from other counties and other states. That there would be many deaths in cases brought here as a last resort is a foregone conclusion.

The figures for the various towns of the county are as follows:

	Births	Deaths
Allen.....	4	1
Bay Lake.....	3	1
Baxter.....	3	1
Brainerd.....	226	179
Crow Wing.....	7	2
Daggett Brook.....	9	0

Ross Lake.....	3	2
Sibley.....	4	0
Smiley.....	3	0
St. Mathias.....	12	5
Watertown.....	7	1
Unorganized.....	4	5

It will be noticed by an examination of the above figures that Daggett Brook had the best record, with nine births and no deaths. Fort Ripley was a close second with 11 births and two deaths, while Long Lake had 11 births and three deaths. The old theory that pioneer life causes few deaths and large families would seem to be exploded by the fact that the only place where the deaths exceeded the births was in the unorganized territory. In fifteen out of 34 subdivisions of the county there were no deaths and in seven others there was but one each.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

At the Unique

The program at this playhouse for this week end is intensely pleasing and instructive—the first picture setting forth in comedy the troubles of two artists, next a beautiful story entitled, "A Cabby's Romance," showing how fate at times means well but mistakes. Following this is to be seen beautiful Washington, our national capital—its excellent parks, gardens, buildings and the capitol building. The feature picture, "Taft's Inauguration" which in excellent views clearly shows the difficulty under which the program was carried out owing to the terrific storm which had Washington in its grip March 4th.

We Announce the New Styles FOR MEN

The Authoritative Styles for Spring and Summer, 1909, are now on display at this store—largely, we are glad to say, garments made by The House of Kuppenheimer

We are showing them with not a little pride, because they represent that better quality and advance style-knowledge which count with the think-a-bit man who knows that to look above the average—usually—is to succeed above the average.

There's a correct style certainty to each model which should be mighty satisfying to the man who respects his appearance, and who realizes that an error in clothes, like an error in conduct, reflects directly against the individual.

The cut, the fit and the finishing of clothes made by

are beyond criticism. Master-workmen in every department have helped to build them to the place they occupy today.

To be absolutely correct and still a degree ahead of the season's styles, certainly is a satisfaction.

To own your new suit or top coat now will give you that advantage.

The new fabrics are more than usually fine. The new styles are decidedly original. Our showing comprises an unusual assortment of garments. They cover the whole range of men's builds, moods and years.

You will learn some interesting things about clothes quality, new styles and fine tailoring by looking through the stock.

Never did we offer so many different and striking shades in the most appropriate Spring colors.

There is not a common tone in the lot—not one that you would not be proud to wear.

Now is the best time for making your choice

The new Spring Styles in Ralston Shoes and Oxfords will please you. We are ready to show you a splendid assortment.

ANYONE CAN PREPARE THIS

Too Much Kidney Trouble Here;

Valuable Prescription Given
Anyone Can Prepare it

Take care of backache. A great many cases of kidney complaint are reported about here; also bladder trouble and rheumatism.

An authority once stated that pain in the back, loins or region of the kidneys is the danger signal nature hangs out to notify the sufferer that there is something wrong with the kidneys, which should receive immediate attention. Only vegetable treatment should be administered and absolutely no strongly alcoholic medicines, which are harmful to the kidneys and bladder.

The following prescription, while simple, harmless and inexpensive, is known and recognized as a sovereign remedy for kidney complaint. The ingredients can be obtained at any good prescription pharmacy anyone can mix them: Compound Kargon, one ounce;

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Shake well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime.

This preparation is said to restore the natural function of the kidneys, so they will sift and strain the poisonous waste matter, uric acid, etc., from the blood, purifying it and relieving rheumatism. Backache will be relieved, the urine will be neutralized and cleared and no longer a cause of irritation, thereby overcoming such symptoms as weak bladder, painful, frequent and other urinary difficulties.

This is worth trying and may prove just what many people here need.

Card of Thanks

We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks to the kind friends and neighbors who so generously extended aid and sympathy during our recent bereavement.

BIRTHS EXCEED DEATHS BY FAR

406 Were Born and 239 Died in
Crow Wing County During
Year of 1908

RECORD GOOD IN BRAINERD

226 Births and 179 Deaths Occurred in the City During
the Same Period

W. A. M. Johnston, clerk of the district court has received the mortuary statistics for the year 1908 from the secretary of the state board of health. The showing is very gratifying, the total births for the year being 406 and the total deaths only 239. In the city of Brainerd alone there were 226 births and 179 deaths. At first glance it would seem that the showing for the city was not nearly so good as for the country districts, but it must be borne in mind that the hospitals of Brainerd add materially to the number of deaths in the city. This is in no sense a reflection upon the hospitals which are all of them doing splendid work, but is rather because of the excellent character and reputation of these institutions which cause desperately injured and critically ill people to be brought here not only from all parts of the county, but from other counties and other states. That there would be many deaths in cases brought here as a last resort is a foregone conclusion.

The figures for the various towns of the county are as follows:

Births	Deaths
Allen.....	4
Bay Lake.....	3
Baxter.....	3
Brainerd.....	226
Crow Wing.....	7
Daggett Brook.....	9
Dean Lake.....	4
Deerwood.....	16
Emily.....	7
Fairfield.....	2
Ft. Ripley.....	11
Garrison.....	7
Ideal.....	1
Jenkins village.....	4
Jenkins township.....	5
Klondike.....	8
Lake Edwards.....	4

Long Lake.....	11
Maple Grove.....	6
Nokay Lake.....	5
Oak Dawn.....	5
Pequot village.....	6
Perry Lake.....	3
Pelican Lake.....	2
Platt Lake.....	1
Rabbit Lake.....	7
Roosevelt.....	5
Ross Lake.....	3
Sibley.....	4
Smiley.....	3
St. Mathias.....	12
Watertown.....	7
Unorganized.....	4

It will be noticed by an examination of the above figures that Daggett Brook had the best record, with nine births and no deaths. Fort Ripley was a close second with 11 births and two deaths, while Long Lake had 11 births and three deaths. The old theory that pioneer life causes few deaths and large families would seem to be exploded by the fact that the only place where the deaths exceeded the births was in the unorganized territory. In fifteen out of 34 subdivisions of the county there were no deaths and in seven others there was but one each.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

At the Unique

The program at this playhouse for this week end is intensely pleasing and instructive—the first picture setting forth in comedy the troubles of two artists, next a beautiful story entitled, "A Cabby's Romance," showing how fate at times means well but mistakes. Following this is to be seen beautiful Washington, our national capital—its excellent parks, gardens, buildings and the capitol building. The feature picture, "Taft's Inauguration" which in excellent views clearly shows the difficulty under which the program was carried out owing to the terrific storm which had Washington in its grip March 4th.

We Announce the New Styles FOR MEN

The Authoritative Styles for Spring and Summer, 1909, are now on display at this store—largely, we are glad to say, garments made by The House of Kuppenheimer

We are showing them with not a little pride, because they represent that better quality and advance style-knowledge which count with the think-a-bit man who knows that to look above the average—usually—is to succeed above the average.

There's a correct style certainty to each model which should be mighty satisfying to the man who respects his appearance, and who realizes that an error in clothes, like an error in conduct, reflects directly against the individual.

The cut, the fit and the finishing of clothes made by

are beyond criticism. Master-workmen in every department have helped to build them to the place they occupy today.

To be absolutely correct and still a degree ahead of the season's styles, certainly is a satisfaction.

To own your new suit or top coat now will give you that advantage.

The new fabrics are more than usually fine. The new styles are decidedly original. Our showing comprises an unusual assortment of garments. They cover the whole range of men's builds, moods and years.

You will learn some interesting things about clothes quality, new styles and fine tailoring by looking through the stock.

Never did we offer so many different and striking shades in the most appropriate Spring colors.

There is not a common tone in the lot—not one that you would not be proud to wear.

Now is the best time for making your choice

The new Spring Styles in Ralston Shoes and Oxfords will please you. We are ready to show you a splendid assortment.

INVESTIGATION CONCLUDED

Grand Jury Completes Corruption Inquiry at Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, March 19.—The grand jury investigation of alleged councilmanic corruption has been concluded. A report soon will be made by the jury to Judge L. L. Davis and interesting developments in the graft scandal of Pittsburg are expected to follow immediately.

Rumors now afloat, impossible of confirmation, are extremely sensational. One report is to the effect that at least ten men prominent in the affairs of this city are to be arrested. In all quarters it is generally believed a number of indictments will be returned.

A few hours before the investigation closed, Councilman John F. Klein, recently twice convicted since the graft exposures were made by the voters' league of Pittsburg, was put in jail on charges of contempt of court without ball. Klein, through his counsel, refused absolutely to testify before the grand jury and was quickly brought before Judge Davis. A repetition to the court of his refusal to testify caused his immediate incarceration in jail and a severe reprimand.

IN FIGHT WITH PITCHFORKS

Four Men Seriously Injured at Storm Lake, Ia.

Des Moines, Ia., March 19.—Charles Bilberg is dying and three other men were badly hurt as the result of a fierce encounter with pitchforks at Storm Lake. The battle followed a dispute over a stack of hay which James Scothorn and Bilberg tried to remove from Ed Gitten's farm. Gitten's son opened the fight. Bilberg's skull was fractured and his brain pierced by a fork tine. He cannot live. No arrests have been made, as all the combatants were seriously hurt.

ELECTRICITY FROM THE SUN.

How a Massachusetts Man Uses Its Rays to Generate Currents.

That he has successfully solved the problem of storing up the sun's rays and converting them into electrical energy is the claim made by a Boston inventor.

He is George S. Cove, and he demonstrates the success of his invention by lighting his workshop in Somerville, a Boston suburb, with electricity generated from a simple apparatus on the roof.

Cove's invention will be known as the "solar electric generator," and he says it can be built at a cost of $100 each. It consists of a framework to be placed in an opening where it will receive the direct rays of the sun. Short plugs of a metal composition are set into this frame. There are 976 plugs. Filled in around these plugs is a body of heat absorbing material. The difference of the temperature of the two ends of the metal plugs, one being in the sun, the other in the open, with a circulation of air around it, generates the current of electricity.

If the sun goes under a cloud an automatic cut-out breaks the circuit between the generator and the batteries. The device is thus entirely automatic. When the sun sets, it automatically shuts off the storage batteries and begins again in the morning. This machine generates through a day of sunshine enough electricity to light five lights of twenty candle power each, to last from three to four days of continuous lighting.

MOVE TO SAVE BABIES.

New York Societies Planning to Check Infant Mortality.

In an effort to save the lives of the babies of New York who are sacrificed by the ignorance of their parents concerning their proper care the County Medical society, the board of trustees of the Bellevue and allied hospitals and the recently organized Infant Science academy, which was founded by Mrs. Gibson Arnoldi, have begun a concerted movement among the charitable and medical societies of the city.

The bodies named are planning the holding of a great mass meeting after Easter in order to awaken the public of New York to a sense of the importance of saving the lives of the babies. It is pointed out that, while 26,230 persons died last year in New York of tuberculosis, against which so vigorous a warfare is being waged, the infant mortality of New York in the same period was 26,503. The babies who thus met untimely deaths were, according to a recent writer, "surrounded by mud and murdered by ignorance," and many of the deaths were preventable.

Rumors now afloat, impossible of confirmation, are extremely sensational. One report is to the effect that at least ten men prominent in the affairs of this city are to be arrested. In all quarters it is generally believed a number of indictments will be returned.

A few hours before the investigation closed, Councilman John F. Klein, recently twice convicted since the graft exposures were made by the voters' league of Pittsburgh, was put in jail on charges of contempt of court without bail. Klein, through his counsel, refused absolutely to testify before the grand jury and was quickly brought before Judge Davis. A repetition to the court of his refusal to testify caused his immediate incarceration in jail and a severe reprimand.

IN FIGHT WITH PITCHFORKS

Four Men Seriously Injured at Storm Lake, Ia.

Des Moines, Ia., March 19.—Charles Bilberg is dying and three other men were badly hurt as the result of a fierce encounter with pitchforks at Storm Lake. The battle followed a dispute over a stack of hay which James Scothorn and Bilberg tried to remove from Ed Gitten's farm. Gitten's son opened the fight. Bilberg's skull was fractured and his brain pierced by a fork tine. He cannot live. No arrests have been made, as all the combatants were seriously hurt.

ELECTRICITY FROM THE SUN.

How a Massachusetts Man Uses Its Rays to Generate Currents.

That he has successfully solved the problem of storing up the sun's rays and converting them into electrical energy is the claim made by a Boston inventor.

He is George S. Cove, and he demonstrates the success of his invention by lighting his workshop in Somerville, a Boston suburb, with electricity generated from a simple apparatus on the roof.

Cove's invention will be known as the "solar electric generator," and he says it can be built at a cost of $100 each. It consists of a framework to be placed in an opening where it will receive the direct rays of the sun. Short plugs of a metal composition are set into this frame. There are 976 plugs. Filled in around these plugs is a body of heat absorbing material. The difference of the temperature of the two ends of the metal plugs, one being in the sun, the other in the open, with a circulation of air around it, generates the current of electricity.

If the sun goes under a cloud an automatic cut-out breaks the circuit between the generator and the batteries. The device is thus entirely automatic. When the sun sets, it automatically shuts off the storage batteries and begins again in the morning. This machine generates through a day of sunshine enough electricity to light five lights of twenty candle power each, to last from three to four days of continuous lighting.

MOVE TO SAVE BABIES.

New York Societies Planning to Check Infant Mortality.

In an effort to save the lives of the babies of New York who are sacrificed by the ignorance of their parents concerning their proper care the County Medical society, the board of trustees of the Bellevue and allied hospitals and the recently organized Infant Science academy, which was founded by Mrs. Gibson Arnold, have begun a concerted movement among the charitable and medical societies of the city.

The bodies named are planning the holding of a great mass meeting after Easter in order to awaken the public of New York to a sense of the importance of saving the lives of the babies. It is pointed out that, while 26,230 persons died last year in New York of tuberculosis, against which so vigorous a warfare is being waged, the infant mortality of New York in the same period was 26,503. The babies who thus met untimely deaths were, according to a recent writer, "surrounded by mud and murdered by ignorance," and many of the deaths were preventable.
